Comments:

Since the Custer Gallatin National Forest has been my backyard for 34 years, I care about the continuing health and character of this forest. It is unique and should remain so for future generations.

I want to see the best possible plan adopted for stewardship of the area to keep the ranges as they are today.

I like provision for as much wilderness as possible, with many opportunities for non-motorized recreation and protection of wildlife habitat, along with preserving clean water in the process.

As the proximity, indeed connection, of the Gallatin Range to Yellowstone Park is so self-evident, I believe the Range with its wild backcountry needs permanent protection.

I favor managing Recommended Wilderness the same as Designated Wilderness so as to preserve the land for its designation as Wilderness.

The sacred history of the Crazy Mountains must be preserved so as to protect its cultural significance to the Crow Nation and its wilderness for the future.

I favor implementing the Gallatin Forest Partnership Agreement because it balances recreation and conservation, a theme which is favored by a wide range of opinions.
