Comments:

Please choose alternative D, we need to save our wilderness areas and expand them. With our population growth the Polaris Razors and all the other off road vehicles are taking over all the terrain for hikers and outdoorsman. The marketing of these vehicles are ruining areas that originally were intended for foot traffic. The people that ride them try to go where they shouldn't be, must roll them trying to beat the other guy to the top of the hill. I call it the little penis syndrome. I spoke with our local fire department here in Utah and the paramedics are constantly having to rescue those egotistical morons that try to go where only a hiker should be. Please don't allow companies like Honda, Polaris, Can Am, etc. to completely ruin the wild areas that should be left for bears, deer, moose, birds and bees. Expand our wilderness now.

Sincerely

Alan from Utah
