To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to express my support of Alternative D in the update of the Custer Gallatin National Forest Plan. The forest is not a commodity for us to exhaust. It is an ecosystem that ensures clean air and water for the survival of all living things. It is finite and we need to protect it for our own survival and the survival of the planet. It is foolhardy to do anything less, particularly as the human population of this area of Montana is growing by unchecked leaps and bounds. It is your duty to protect the health and viability of the forest for all life that exists here now and into the future. I urge you to protect our heritage and ensure the designation of as much wilderness area as possible for our survival and our children and our future as a species. Sincerely, Frances Stewart, landowner, Livingston, MT
